

Miss Hanss 4th Grade Class

Technology Project “Best Part of Me” with Sra.Pellegrino

Introduction to Reader

Students created a class e-book with the best part about them. Inspiration to build our students up from images of themselves and the mentored text came from Wendy Ewald's book, "The Best Part of Me". The writing assignment was modified from a lesson posted on Scholastic, contributed by Genia Connell.

These 4th Graders learned technology skills through navigating the Google Suite and exploration of the built in features of their Chromebook. They learned to utilize multiple programs, organize information using digital tools, and mastered Google Classroom to manage their assignments. The shared e- book was a collaboration project that modeled working together to reach the same goal.

So proud of these 4th Graders.

Note to Reader

Each writing is unique to that student. The reader may notice different font sizes and types. Some writing will be highlighted, some bolded. One writing may be an essay and another may be a bulleted list. Fostering creativity and respect for each others artistic choice is also a component of this project.

My hands make me happy and joyful when I can use them to hug my mom. The best part of me is my hands because I get to polish my nails and make them shiny. With my hands, I can climb across the monkey bars. I like my hands because I use them to hold my softball bat and throw my softball.

That's all about the best part of me. These are the reasons I think my hands are the best part of me! Hands are pretty helpful. With my hands I can do so many amazing things with them!
